Introduction

The opponents of the four madhabs, also known as Salafis, would have us believe that the differences between the madhabs would not exist had the madhabs all followed the Qur'an and Sunnah. In this is an insinuation that the madhabs do not necessarily follow authentic hadith. This is why when Salafis see a hadith in Bukhari, Muslim, or one of Shaykh Albani's books which contradicts a practice in a madhab, they come to the conclusion that madhabs must be wrong because they left out the saheeh hadith and followed either the opinion (ra'y) of their imam, legal analogy (qiyaas), or a weak narration<sup>1</sup>. Here is an example from Dr. Zakir Naik during one of his lectures<sup>2</sup>. While talking about saying ameen behind the imam, he said:

"...[After the Imam finishes reciting fatiha], should the people say ameen loudly or no? According to Abu Hanifa, according to the Hanafi madhab, you should not say ameen loudly after the Imam completes surah fatiha in audible prayers (i.e., fajr, maghrib and isha). But according to Imam Shafii (may Allah's mercy be upon him)... the answer [is] yes... Who is right? If you don't know, you have to go to Qur'an and Hadith. We do not find any verse in the Qur'an that indicates if we should say ameen loudly or no,] so we go to the next source and that is the saheeh (authentic) hadith.

And then he went on to quote (actually misquote<sup>3</sup>) the ahadith to prove his point and he concluded by saying:

1 The authentication of hadith is not an absolute science. Some scholars may consider a hadith weak but others may disagree with them and consider it authentic. The Salafis behave like there has never been a muhaddith like Alabani in the past and there will never be one after him until the Day of Judgment, and so everyone must take what he says as the last word. One wonders if Salafi brothers has seen a secret text that says something like 'The ultimate authority in classifying hadith lies with a man named Muhammen bin Nuh Najaati al-Albani (al-saheehu ma sahhahahu al-albani wa al-daeefu ma daafahu huwa)'.

2 <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VX-Pr5RQFcg> (Search for "Does Saying Ameen Loudly Correct - Dr. Zakir Naik" on youtube ).

3 In the 2nd edition of our booklet called "Do Salafis Really Follow The Daleel", we have proven how Dr. Naik is misleading the people by misquoting the hadith from Bukhari and Muslim.

“So, I have given you references of at least nine saheeh hadith which says that you should say ameen loudly. Now, I ask you the question. Who is correct, the Hana-fi madhab or the Shafii? [The correct one is] the Shafii madhab. It is simple. What matches with the Qur'an and saheeh hadith, you follow that. [It is] simple.”

In summary, what Dr. Naik is saying, is that in cases of any disagreement between the four madhabs, one should go to the Quran and Sunnah to find out who is right. There are two fundamental flaws in Dr. Naik's approach:

1. He does not even bother to look at the books of the madhabs to see the Imams' daleel.
2. He assumes that a hadith in Bukhari or Muslim automatically takes precedence over what the madhabs may have relied on, and that when Shaykh Albani declares a hadith weak or authentic, his declaration overrides all declarations of any other Hadith Master.

In my opinion, the cure for the fundamental ailments of Dr. Naik's approach is as follows:

1. He has to look at the evidence used by the madhabs before he sets out “correcting” their “mistakes”. This will save him from further blunders<sup>4</sup> and embarrass-

4 Please see the fifth example in our booklet called “Do Salafis Really Follow The Daleel” to find out for yourself how Dr. Naik makes a mistake by relying on someone's English translation of the ahadith in Bukhari and Muslim, and attributing to the Prophet (pbuh) what he did not say. Here is an example of how Dr. Naik misquotes the hadith to make his point:

Dr. Naik said, in quoting the Hadith number 780 from Bukhari, that the Prophet (pbuh) said:

“Say ameen loudly and if your ameen coincides with the ameen of the angels then all your past sins are forgiven.”

Here is the text of the hadith:

حدثنا عبد الله بن يوسف قال أخبرنا مالك عن ابن شهاب عن سعيد بن المسيب وأبي سلمة بن عبد الرحمن أنهما أخبراه عن أبي هريرة أن النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم قال إذا أمن الإمام فأمنوا فإنه من وافق تأمينه تأمين الملائكة غفر له ما تقدم من ذنبه وقال ابن شهاب وكان رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم يقول آمين

Those, who understand Arabic, can see for themselves how Dr. Naik makes the Prophet (pbuh) say what he did not say. But for those who do not understand Arabic, here is the Dr. Khan's translation:

ments. This is the principle set up by Shaykh Albani for all Salfis when he said<sup>5</sup>: "I examine the positions of the Imams and their evidences for them, and then take the closest of them to the evidence of the Qur'an and Sunnah<sup>6</sup>"

2. It is true that all the hadith found in Bukhari and Muslim are authentic. What is not true, however, and this is what Dr. Naik and many Salafis do not seem to understand, is that there is no guarantee that the most authentic hadith for every issue will actually be in Bukhari and or Muslim. Neither Bukhari, Muslim nor any other Hadith Master have ever claimed to have every authentic hadith on all issues in their collections. Scholars who came after the two great Imams used the Imams' criteria to collect hadith that were previously missed in order to include them in follow up hadith collections. The most famous collection as a follow-up to the books of Bukhari and Muslim is that of "Al-Mustadrak" by the Hadith Master Al-

The Prophet (pbuh) said, "Say ameen" when the Imam says it and if the ameen of any one of you coincides with that of the angels then all his past sins will be forgiven." Ibn Shihab said, "Allah's Messenger (pbuh) used to say ameen."

Do you see anywhere in this hadith the word "loudly"? What is the motivation of Dr. Naik that makes him wonder into this dangerous path of interpolating the hadith? I am sure Dr. Naik is sincere in what he is doing but sincerity does not guarantee that one is on the right path. In fact, one can be sincerely wrong. I don't also doubt that Dr. Naik is aware of the mutawatir (unanimously authentic) hadith where the Prophet (pbuh) warned people in the strongest way when he (pbuh) said: "Whoever lies on my behalf, let him reserve his seat in the fire of hell." I humbly think that someone has to warn Dr. Naik. He has such great potential in the field of comparative religion but when he wonders into the land of fiqh for which he has no training, he ends up making dangerous fundamental mistakes and due to his fame, the resulting damage and responsibility is much greater. Allah knows best.

<sup>6</sup> Shaykh Al-Albani talked the talk but did he walk the walk and stay faithful to this principle of his? Refer to the first example in our booklet called "Do Salafis Really Follow the Daleel" to find out. You will also find out how faithful are some of the modern day Salafi preachers are to this principle of Shaykh Al-Albani if you refer to other examples in the same booklet.

Haakim al-Naysaboori, and edited by the legendary Hadith Master Al-Hadidz al-Dhahabi. Let's suppose that a madhab based its view on a hadith given in Abu Dawood and there is another hadith on the same subject in Bukhari or Muslim. Does that automatically mean that the hadith in Bukhari takes precedence and that the madhab point of view is wrong? According to Dr. Naik and the overwhelming majority of Salafis, the answer is yes. However, what do the Hadith Masters, experts in the field of hadith, have to say about this? One of the most referenced books in hadith science commonly known as "Introduction of Ibn Al-Salah" and its commentary by the teacher of teachers and the Hadith Master of his era Zaynudeen al-Iraaqi gave the answer to our question under the title 'Contradictory Hadith (ma'rifat mukhtalaf al-haadith)'. Al-Iraqi states that there are 110 steps (listed in order of priority) which are needed to select between two hadith if a reconciliation is not possible. The question that we must ask is, "How important is it that one hadith is in Bukhari or Muslim but the other one is not?" Well, it may surprise many of you that this does not come into play until step number 102. But step number 102 has unfortunately become the first and only step for Dr. Naik and nearly all other Salafis. This is called putting the cart before the horse. If you refer to our booklet called "Do Salafis Really Follow the Deleel", you will find a majority of the steps listed there. When you read them you will quickly realize that going through all those steps is a tremendous undertaking; 99% of the books required are only available in Arabic<sup>7</sup>- and the likes of Dr. Naik will not have access to these books anytime soon. On any given subject in one of the more than 300 hadith collections, there could be a hadith that could be more authentic than what is found in Bukhari or Muslim. Therefore, rejecting the position of a madhab based solely on a hadith from Bukhari or Muslim (or even in one of the books from Shaykh Alabani) without looking at the evidence used by the madhabs is nothing short of a monumental blunder.

3. Dr. Naik misunderstood and misuses the following statement attributed to all four imams: "If the hadith is authentic, it is my way". One of the pillars of the edifice of Islamic Sciences, the Hadith Master and the Eminent Jurist Muhyiddeen Al-Nawawi explains the meaning of this statement in his masterpiece called Al-Majmoo<sup>8</sup>. We have included a translation of this section at the end of our booklet called "Do Salafis Really Follow the Deleel". Please refer to it as the explanation of Shaykh Al-Islam al-Nawawi is eye opening and is linked to the previous two points.

I think that the above example is sufficient enough to demonstrate how people rush to declare the Imams of the four madhabs as mistaken whereas they offer us their "correct" view according to the Qur'an and Sunnah. In order to demonstrate that this is nothing more than a fallacy, I present the translated responses to 100 questions which were put to the three most popular Salafi scholars: Al-Shaykh Ibn Baaz, Al-Shaykh Ibn Uthaymeen, and Al-Shaykh Al-Albaani. I doubt that any Salafi would surmise that all three are following the Qur'an and Sunnah incorrectly. Nonetheless they manage to reach contradicting conclusions. Surely, not all can be correct?

So which of these three is right? Who is really following the Qur'an and Sunnah? Perhaps one of them is right, and the others are wrong, but again, who can tell us where the right answer lies<sup>9</sup>? If we were to select three of the most knowledgeable Salafi teachers alive and present them with the answers (along with the proofs) of Ibn Baaz, Ibn Uthaymeena and Albani and tell them to select the right answers individually and then come together and compare their selections, do you think that all three will select the same answers? I would think that they would have as many disagreements as the Shaykhs themselves or more as they may have their own point of view that is different than those of the three Shaykhs. So then, what is the solution? I can imagine that the Salafis may defend the Shaykhs by saying that they are scholars, they exerted their efforts (ijtahadoo), and each one reached a different conclusion. This is completely normal; we cannot say that one is right and the others are wrong unless we are just as knowledgeable as they are so that we can analyze their proofs (najtahidu) and issue our verdict. This is an acceptable answer, but why are Salafi scholars entitled to disagree without being accused of improperly following Qur'an and Sunnah, following their opinion, or following weak hadith, but when the scholars of the four madhabs disagree they don't get the same courtesy? Why do our Salafi brothers have double standards?

8 1/105-106

9 I would love to see Dr. Naik tell us who is right among these three scholars according to Qur'an and Sunnah and who is wrong. Wouldn't you?

Furthermore, I would like to make it clear that the answers of the three Shaykhs have been collected in an Arabic book called 'Al-Eejaaz Fi Ba'di Makhtalafa Fihi Al-Albaniyyu Wabnu Uthaymeen Wabn Baaz Rahimahom Allahu Ta'aala<sup>10</sup>' by Dr. Saeed bin Abdillah Al-Bareek. He included the evidences in his book that were used by each scholar and, in most cases, the methodology followed to reach the conclusion. I decided to make the questions and the answers available to the English speaking Muslims without including the proofs. The reason for this is that I am not interested at all to prove that one is right and the others are wrong nor am I interested in putting down their methodology or proofs used. I am only demonstrating to the reader that scholars of similar methodology and background can reach different conclusions<sup>11</sup> even though they are using the same evidences from the Qur'an and Sunnah and that the oft-repeated statement of the Salafis 'Scholars disagreed on this subject and we must refer back to the Qur'an and Sunnah to find the correct answer' is only a fallacy. The truth of this statement is written at large in the following pages that you are about to read.

In addition, the three Shaykhs had disagreement not only

10 The Synopsis of Some of the Differences Among Al-Albani, Ibn Uthaymeen and Ibn Baaz (May Allah Have Mercy on Them)

11 In some case, the same Shaykh will contradict himself and give opposing answers to the same questions. See questions 15 and 60.

in issues regarding jurisprudence (fiqh) but also the Islamic creed (aqida). I choose not to translate their differences in creed (aqida) because it is a very sensitive subject and I feared that I may not be able to do justice in transmitting the very technical discussion and may cause confusion among the readers.

I now leave you with the three Shaykhs responding to questions. All three claim to be Salafis and claim to follow the Qur'an and Sunnah.

All praise is due to Allah and may the peace and blessing of Allah be upon our Master Prophet Muhammed, upon his family, upon his companions and upon those who follow in their footsteps until the day of judgment. May Allah make this little effort a means for the dissemination of truth. Ameen!

Forbidden Statements

Question 1: What is the ruling regarding the saying of people after someone's demise: "He went to his last resting place"<sup>12</sup>?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: There is no problem with using this statement.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible to use this statement.

Albani: It is not permissible to use this statement.

Question 2: What is the ruling regarding the saying of some people: "Allah is capable of everything He wills"<sup>13</sup>?

Answer

Ibn Uthaymeen: The power of Allah (SW) is not limited to what He wills; rather it is absolute. If Allah's power is mentioned in conjunction with an action, then there is no harm in mentioning His will. He gave the statement of Allah (SW) as an example in Surah Al-Shuraa verse 29: "He is able to gather them whenever he wills."

Albani: Use of this statement is permissible.

Question 3: What is the ruling regarding the use of the statement la samaha Allah (God forbid!)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: There is no problem in using it.

Ibn Uthaymeen: I dislike (akrahu) that someone say "la smaha Allah".

Albani: [He is not directly respond to this question but he was heard using it which means he considers it permissible.]

12     intaqala ila mathwahu al-akheer

13     Inna Allaha ala ma yashaau qadeer

Purification (tahaarah)

Question 4: What is the ruling regarding the use of utensils/containers from gold and silver or general use for other than drinking or eating from it?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible (haram) to use utensils or containers made of gold or silver as it is not permissible to eat or drink from that which is made of gold silver. Nor is it permissible to use golden or silver utensils for any other purpose. Even pens made of gold or silver are not permissible to be used by men or women, as they are not considered jewelry.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Using gold and silver other than for drinking or eating utensils is permissible.

Albani: Using golden containers is forbidden (haram). As for silver, it is forbidden to eat or drink from but other use is permissible.

Question 5: Can tanning render the skins of dead animals pure (taahir)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: If the skin of an animal whose meat is halal, is tanned, it becomes pure. As for those animals whose meat is forbidden to eat, tanning will not render its skin pure.

Ibn Uthaymeen: The preferred opinion is that the skin of an animal does not become pure unless the animal is halal when slaughtered. If the slaughtering does not render an animal halal, then his skin remains impure even if it is tanned.

Albani: The skin of an animal becomes pure even if it were the skin of a pig.

Question 6: What is the ruling regarding facing the qibla in answering the call of nature?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible to turn towards qibla or to turn ones back to qibla during the call of nature outside. It is permissible inside the buildings though it is better to avoid it.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible to turn towards qibla or to turn ones back to qibla during the call of nature outside. Inside the buildings, turning one's back to qibla is permitted but not facing it.

Albani: It is not permissible to face the qibla or to turn one's back to it during the call of nature neither outside nor inside.

Question 7: What is the ruling regarding cutting of off the beard beyond the length of the width of one's fist (qabda)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible to cut anything of off the beard even if it get longer than the width of one's fist.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible to cut anything off of the beard.

Albani: The sunna practiced by the righteous predecessors is to grow the beard except what is beyond the width of a fist- which should be cut off.

Question 8: What is the ruling regarding uttering tasmiya (In the Name of Allah most Gracious most Merciful) in wudu?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is obligatory (wajib) to utter tasmiya at the beginning of wudu according to a group of scholars.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Uttering tasmiya in wudu is sunna.

Albani: Uttering tasmiya in wudu is obligatory (wajib).

Question 8: What is the ruling regarding keeping the order (al-tarteef) in making wudu?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Keeping the order in wudu is obligatory (wajib).

Ibn Uthaymeen: Keeping the order in wudu is obligatory (wajib).

Albani: Keeping the order in wudu is not obligatory (ghayr wajib). It may be sunna. Allah knows best.

Question 9: Is it legal (yashra') to repeat the wiping of the head in wudu?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Wiping of the head is done once. It is not recommended to repeat the wiping.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Wiping of the head is done once. It is disliked (yukraho) to repeat the wiping.

Albani: It is related from the Prophet (pbuh) authentically that he wiped his head repeatedly.

Question 10: Does one have to renew wudu after carrying a deceased person?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not recommended to make wudu for the one who carried a deceased person.

Albani: It is recommended to make wudu for the one who carried a deceased person.

Question 11: What is the ruling regarding wiping over leather socks (khuffayn) or thin socks?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: One of the prerequisites of wiping over leather or normal socks is that they should be thick and should cover the area of the foot that must be washed (up to ankles).

Ibn Uthaymeen: According to the correct opinion it is permissible to wipe over leather or normal socks even if they are thin. The condition that the socks must cover the area that must be washed, as stated by some scholars, is not correct. There is no proof for it.

Albani: Wiping over [normal] socks is permissible even if they are thin.

Question 12: If one makes wudu by wiping over ones foot-gear (leather or normal socks) and then takes them off, will he loose his wudu?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: The wudu is nullified. He has to make wudu again.

Ibn Uthaymeen: If one takes of his leather socks or normal socks after having made wudu by wiping over them, he does not lose his wudu according to the correct view.

Albani: If one takes of his leather socks or the like after having made wudu, he keeps his wudu.

Question 13: What is the ruling regarding wiping over one's shoes?

Answer:

Ibn Uthaymeen: Wiping over the shoes is not permissible (la yajooz).

Albani: Wiping over the shoes is permissible (yajooz).

Question 14: What is the ruling regarding wiping the splint/cast (jabeera)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Wiping over the splint/cast is permissible (mashroo').

Ibn Uthaymeen: Wiping over the splint/cast is permissible (mashroo').

Albani: Wiping over the splint is not permissible (la yashra').

Question 15: Does one lose his wudu if he touches his private parts?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Touching the private parts directly nullifies wudu with or without lust.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Touching the private parts with lust nullifies wudu.

In another occasion he said in his Sharh al-Mumti' (1/325) that if one touches his private area, it is recommended for him to make wudu irrespective of if he touches it with lust or without lust. The view, that one must make wudu if he touches with lust, is a strong one but I do not require wudu from touching with lust and rather I say that one needs to make wudu just in case.

Albani: Touching the private parts without lust does not nullify wudu but if it is done with lust, the wudu is nullified.

Question 16: If one touches someone else's private parts, is his wudu nullified?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: If it is touched directly, it nullifies the wudu.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It does not nullify the wudu.

Question 17: Does one lose wudu from eating anything (e.g., liver, fat) of a camel other than his meat?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Nothing of the camel nullifies wudu except its meat.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Eating anything of the camel nullifies wudu. There is no difference between its meat and the rest.

Question 18: Does a disbeliever have to make ghusl (ritual bath) upon becoming a Muslim?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is recommended for a disbeliever to make ghusl upon becoming a Muslim.

Ibn Uthaymeen: The view that a disbeliever must (wajib) make ghusl upon becoming a Muslim is more likely the correct view.

Albani: It is a must (wajib) for a disbeliever to make ghusl upon becoming a Muslim.

Question 19: What is the ruling regarding making ghusl prior to Friday prayer (ghuslu yawm al-jumuah)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: Making ghusl on a Friday is an emphasized Sunnah (sunna muakkada).

Ibn Uthaymeen: Making ghusl on a Friday is obligatory (wajib).

Albani: Making ghusl on a Friday is obligatory (wajib).

Question 20: If one makes ghusl from an intimate relation on a Friday, does it count also as the ghusl for Friday?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: If someone makes ghusl daytime [before] Friday prayer after an intimate relation, it also counts as ghusl for Friday.

Ibn Uthaymeen: If one makes ghusl from an intimate relation after the sun rise, it counts for him also as the ghusl for Friday.

Albani: Making a ghusl on a Friday from an intimate relation will not count for him also as ghusl for Friday even if he makes the intention for both.

Question 21: What is the ruling regarding touching the Qur'an without wudu or in a state of janaaba (needing to make ghusl)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) to touch Qur'an without wudu or in a state of janaba.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) to touch Qur'an without wudu or in a state of janaba.

Albani: It is permissible (yajuzu) to touch Qur'an without wudu or in a state of janaba.

Question 22: What is the ruling regarding reciting Qur'an in a state of janaba (needing to make ghusl)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) for the one in a state of janaba to recite Qur'an.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) for the one in a state of janaba to recite Qur'an.

Albani: It is not disliked (makrooh) for the one in a state of janaba to recite Qur'an.

Question 23: What is the ruling for who is on her period or in a state of janaba (needs to make ghusl) to stay (spend time) in a Masjid?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) for the one on her period or for anyone in a state of janaba to stay (spend time) in a Masjid unless one passes through or passes by for a need.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not permissible (la yajuzu) for the one on her period or for anyone in a state of janaba to stay (spend time) in a Masjid. The only exception is that if the one in a state of janaba makes wudu, then he can stay in a Masjid.

Albani: It is permissible (yajuzu) for the one on her period or for any one in a state of janaba to spend time (or stay) in a masjid.

Question 24: Does a woman have to undo her hair in mak- ing ghusl (ritual bath) following her period?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is recommended (mustahab) for a women to undo her hair while making ghusl after her period.

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is not required (la yajibu) for a women to undo her hair while making ghusl after her period.

Albani: It is obligatory (yajibu) for a women to undo her hair while making ghusl after her period.

Question 25: Can an impurity (najasa) be removed without using water?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: The impurity is not cleaned except with water save the exceptions which are cleaning after the call of nature [that can be done without water].

Ibn Uthaymeen: An impurity can be cleaned with any cleaner as long as it eliminates the impurity.

Albani: An impurity can be cleaned with water but not with any other liquid.

Question 26: Is the liquid that comes out of a women's private area pure (taahir)?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: It is impure (najis).

Ibn Uthaymeen: It is pure (taahir).

Prayer

Question 27: What is the ruling regarding the one who does not pray out of negligence and laziness?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: The one who does not pray is a disbeliever (kufr akbar).

Ibn Uthaymeen: The one who does not pray at all is a disbeliever (kaafir) and an apostate (murtad).

Albani: He who does not pray out of laziness is not a disbeliever (kaafir).

Question 28: What is the ruling for the one who prays on and off?

Answer:

Ibn Uthaymeen: Divorce cannot take place during one's period.

Albani: Divorce can take place during one's period.

Conclusion

So, who will you take your answers from? Are you in a position to decipher who is right and who is wrong or you will just trust their knowledge and follow one of them? If you do, isn't that just a fifth madhab? How is it different than following one of the four Imams?

All praise is due to Allah and may the peace and blessing of Allah be upon our Master Prophet Muhammed, upon his family, upon his companions and upon those who follow in their footsteps until the day of judgment. May Allah make this little effort a means for the dissemination of truth. Ameen!

About the Booklet

The opponents of the four madhabs, also known as Salafis, would have us believe that the differences between the madhabs would not exist had the madhabs all followed the Qur'an and Sunnah. In this is an insinuation that the madhabs do not necessarily follow authentic hadith. This is why when Salafis see a hadith in Bukhari, Muslim, or one of Shaykh Albani's books which contradicts a practice in a madhab, they come to the conclusion that madhabs must be wrong because they left out the saheeh hadith and followed either the opinion (ra'y) of their imam, legal analogy (qiyaas), or a weak narration.

In order to demonstrate that this is nothing more than a fallacy, I present the translated responses to 100 questions which were put to the three most popular Salafi scholars: Al-Shaykh Ibn Baaz, Al-Shaykh Ibn Uthaymeen, and Al-Shaykh Al-Albaani. I doubt that any Salafi would surmise that all three are following the Qur'an and Sunnah incorrectly. Nonetheless they manage to reach contradicting conclusions.

Here is an example:

Question 45: Does one raise his index finger during the sitting between two prostrations?

Answer:

Ibn Baaz: The Sunnah is not to raise the index finger during the sitting between the two prostrations.

Ibn Uthaymeen: Raising the index finger is Sunnah during the sitting between the two prostration just like in tashahhud.

Albani: Raising the index finger in any sitting other than the tashahhud is innovation (bid'ah).

We have three different answers for one question. Who is right according to the Qur'an and Sunnah?
